I hope the Baird office got this to EPA already but wanted to flag they also sent it to USDA. Being a CC I imagine we are not responding with a letter but if it gets discussed or we have any conversations with them I will let you know.

Subject: Congressional Letter on Dicamba Registration

Good morning –

I wanted to share with you the attached letter from Congressman Jim Baird (IN-04) and 62 other agriculture and House leaders sent to EPA Administrator Regan this morning. This letter expresses the significance and need for the dicamba crop protection tools, and the members' concern with the actions the EPA has taken in defending or improving upon the registrations for these products. American producers are already facing difficult shortages and sharp price increases for inputs, and the risk of losing access to dicamba products – particularly at this time of the crop year – could be potentially devastating to American farmers.

Congressman Baird appreciates your attention to this very important matter, and passing this information along through the proper channels. Please confirm receipt of this letter. I'm happy to address any questions you may have.

Thank you!

Cory

Cory Harris

Legislative Director,

Rep. Jim Baird (IN-04)
